

Arizona School Administrators

The Arizona School Administrators seeks an innovative, proactive leader as their new executive director beginning July 1, 2010. The successful candidate will be a(n):

- Forward Thinker focused on guiding organization to meet the needs of 21st century public education
- Competent communicator keeping the Board and all stakeholders informed about and engaged in the work the association
- Dynamic voice for public education in the State of Arizona bringing all stakeholders together around the best interests of children
- Effective manager able to address the needs of members and facilitate the provisions of high-quality professional development

Interested applicants should apply online at hyasupersearch.com. Screening will begin in February at the AASA national conference. The Board will interview slated candidates in early March.